Wilderness Survival

Teams must learn to work together to survive the night in the wilderness. Activities they will need to successfully accomplish include:

- Navigating to base camp
- Solving team challenges to earn camp supplies
- Working together to set-up camp
- Plan, prepare, and cook meals
- Survive the night in the wilderness

This 24 hour adventure tests the best of teams as team members get back to the basics of teamwork. Your team will be working to survive together as a group rather than as individuals on their own in the wild. While the bonds that develop are strong indeed, members will also have the educational benefit of completing the program while gaining new skills to keep them safe outdoors. With limited supplies, the team will have to set up and maintain camp, health and happiness for the entire group.

This is the ultimate event for teams who want to experience extreme teambuilding. Each program is customized to client objectives, location availability and the size of the group.
